

City 'Scapes, Urban Dreams: Living in Downtown San Diego in the Petco Era

Central Library, 3rd Floor, Commission Room
820 E Street, San Diego
at 6:00 pm

- ◆ Wednesday, September 15
- ◆ Wednesday, September 22
- ◆ Wednesday, September 29
- ◆ Wednesday, October 6
- ◆ Wednesday, October 13
- ◆ Wednesday, October 20

- ◆ Do you call Downtown San Diego Home?
- ◆ Do you remember the days before Petco and Horton Plaza?
- ◆ Are you new to Downtown?

Join us for the six part writing workshop every Wednesday evening beginning Sept 15 as we consider Downtown San Diego's past and present. Whether you've just moved to one of the Downtown neighborhoods or your family has been here for generations--join our writing collective as we consider the changing city 'scapes and urban dreams of the area!

The workshop will focus on each participant producing a personal history and perspective that will form a community response to urban development, such as the building of Petco Park, resulting in a collective history that will be distributed to future urban planners and community groups.

The workshop will be led by Elizabeth Steeby, a graduate writing instructor at UCSD, and will focus on each participant's particular interests in describing their downtown experience. We will emphasize the importance of considering often unheard community voices in the midst of large-scale urban development.

<http://www.sandiego.gov/public-library/>

HUMANITIES
CALIFORNIA COUNCIL FOR THE HUMANITIES

